Components of Personal Hygiene

Daily Hygiene Practices

To help teenagers understand the daily practices of personal hygiene, worksheets can outline the following:

Weekly Hygiene Practices

In addition to daily practices, some hygiene routines should be performed weekly:

- Laundry: Change clothes daily and wash them regularly to avoid odors and bacteria build-up.

- Skin Exfoliation: Use exfoliating products to remove dead skin cells once a week.

Seasonal Hygiene Considerations

Teenagers should also be made aware of how hygiene needs may change with the seasons:
