Utilizing the Reading and Writing Center FSU

To make the most of the Reading and Writing Center's resources, students should familiarize themselves with the center's offerings and approach. Here are several strategies for effectively utilizing the center:

Preparation for Your Visit

1. Identify Specific Needs: Before attending a session, reflect on the areas where you need support. Whether it's brainstorming ideas, structuring an argument, or improving grammar, knowing your focus will help the tutor assist you better.
2. Bring Necessary Materials: Always bring your assignment guidelines, drafts, and any readings related to your writing. This will provide context for the tutor and enable more targeted feedback.
3. Set Goals: Come with clear objectives for what you want to achieve during your session. This could include refining a thesis statement, understanding a reading assignment, or improving writing clarity.

During the Consultation

- Engage Actively: Participate in the discussion with your tutor. Ask questions, seek clarification, and share your thoughts about the feedback you receive.
- Take Notes: Write down key points and suggestions provided by the tutor. This will help you remember the advice for future reference and application.
- Be Open to Feedback: Constructive criticism is essential for growth. Approach feedback with an open mind, and consider how you can incorporate suggestions.

After the Visit

1. Review Your Notes: Go over the notes taken during your session, reflecting on how you can apply the feedback to your work.
2. Practice Independently: Implement the strategies discussed in your consultation in your future assignments. Regular practice will reinforce your skills.
3. Follow Up as Needed: If you have further questions or need additional help, don't hesitate to return to the center. Continuous support can lead to significant improvement.
