challenges traditional notions of love as mere infatuation or attachment, proposing instead that true love involves a deep commitment to growth and understanding between individuals. He views love as an active engagement where both parties must be willing to explore their inner selves and confront fears and insecurities. This approach emphasizes that love is not a passive experience but a conscious choice to connect authentically and empathetically with another person.

The Concept of Love as a Journey

Keen conceptualizes love as an evolving journey rather than a fixed state. This journey demands patience, reflection, and resilience.
