It consists of multiple-choice and multiple-select questions that test practical understanding and theoretical knowledge. Candidates are typically given 105 minutes to answer around 60 questions. The format ensures that exam takers demonstrate their ability to configure Salesforce, manage users and data, automate business processes, and create reports and dashboards.

Exam Structure and Question Types

The exam includes different types of questions such as scenario-based questions, direct knowledge questions, and problem-solving scenarios. Multiple-choice questions require selecting the best answer from four options, while multiple-select questions ask for more than one correct answer. The questions are designed to simulate real-world Salesforce administration challenges, making it essential for candidates to apply their knowledge practically.

Scoring and Passing Criteria

The passing score for the Salesforce Admin exam typically ranges around 65%, but this may vary slightly depending on the version of the exam. Questions often test knowledge of how to configure user access to ensure data security and compliance with organizational policies. Understanding Salesforce's sharing model, role hierarchy, and permission sets is critical.

Data Management and Reporting

Data import/export, data quality, validation rules, and data backup are common subjects under this category. Candidates should be familiar with Salesforce reports and dashboards, including how to create, customize, and share them. Proficiency in using report types and filters is often tested.
